

A Plan B to save the world from Climate Collapse!

If you are young or have young children or grandchildren and aren't ready to accept that you/they will have to live in a world devastated by dramatically shifting climate,

If you realize that the way we have tackled climate change so far is a total failure, ...

If you are not ready to give up your future,

Then we have good news.

There is a plan B, a comprehensive global climate stability program that is able to save the planet and our common future, a plan that in the end only knows winners, but no losers.

If you need more information read our flyer or better even check out the detailed information on our homepage: climatestabilityprogram

Now if you want to join our fight for a prosperous and peaceful future for everyone on this planet, here is what you can do, depending on how much time and energy you can spare to save your future.

Less than 5 minutes:

post our message to your friends, stating it is important, and tell them to spread it, too. Like us. Watch our YouTube clips: The Runaway train

5 to 10 minutes:

post our message to your friends, stating it is very, very important, and convince them to spread it, too, and to join the fight. Send us a picture of yourself with the hashtag #cooltheartcticnow on Instagram, Facebook, Twitter. If you have a private account make sure to directly send it to us (direct messaging). We will use your faces to show the old decision makers whose future they destroy, telling them: Look into our eyes and dare say you had better things to do than to save our planet!

We need millions of faces! And if you are afraid to show your face than at least post a picture of yourself with our hashtag in which you can't be identified.

And if you want to do more:

As above, but be creative. Form a group of friends. Take part in our YouTube Runaway Challenge. Demonstrate, write letters to politicians and newspapers. There is no end to human creativity. Use it for our peaceful fight.
